

QUESTION BRIDGE BLACK MALES

a transmedia art project that seeks to represent and redefine Black male identity in America
Opens October 26, 2013 through June 2014

EXPLORE

an exhibit that touches on topics common to all of us

FREE Teacher Preview Weekend | K-12 Teachers show your school district ID to receive free admission.
Saturday, November 9, 2013 | 10:00AM – 5:00PM and Sunday, November 10, 2013 | 1:00PM – 5:00PM

Schedule School Tours

- Interactive guided tours led by experienced teaching artists are offered for school groups and last one hour for an additional fee of $25.00 per group plus $4.00 per person for admission. Guided tours require reservations 2 weeks in advance. Groups of more than 30 students & chaperones will be split and will require 2 or more guides.
- Self-guided tours are also available and come with a museum overview at $4.00 per person for admission.
- To schedule tours call Guest Services at 704.547.3700.

DISCOVER

a safe space to ask questions and get answers

American Promise: Film Screening and Conversation | Saturday, November 9, 2013 | 2:00 PM
Wells Fargo Auditorium at Knight Theater | $5 Gantt Center members, $10 non-members
Buy tickets at <https://ganttamericanpromise.eventbrite.com/>

Question Bridge Blueprint Roundtable | Friday, January 17, 2014 | 7:00pm-9:00pm

Wells Fargo Auditorium at Knight Theater | $5 Gantt Center members, $10 non-members

For more information go to the Gantt Center website www.ganttcenter.org

Introduced by Bayete Ross Smith, this high-level discussion explores a central question posed in the exhibition by the younger generation to their predecessors: "Why didn't you leave us a blueprint?" With an aim to placing national and recurring themes in a local context, the Gantt Center invites established and emerging black male leaders in the local community to discuss this question in an attempt to dismantle communication boundaries and build bridges to greater connections.

BECOME

adept at creating environments of inclusion

Question Bridge Professional Development Workshop | Thursday, January 16, 2014 | 5:00PM-7:00PM
Facilitated by artist Bayete Ross Smith and Gantt Center staff, teachers will explore methods for using the curriculum in the classroom. Refreshments will be served. Check the Gantt Center website for additional information.
www.ganttcenter.org

Building Insights | a professional development series | November 2013 – May 2014

Earn 2.0 CEU's and join us for the events above as well as additional sessions that lead to the development of inclusive curriculum and an opportunity to share your student's work with the community. For more information email education@ganttcenter.org

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts+Culture

551 South Tryon Street, Charlotte, NC 28202
704.547.3700 | www.ganttcenter.org
education@ganttcenter.org

