MEDIA ALERT

Charlotte, NC – The United House of Prayer For All People we will be sponsoring the community outreach event titled “Building Bridges Between Law Enforcement and Neighborhoods,” on Saturday, May 2, 2015. The festivities will begin at 11:00AM and go till 5:00PM. The theme for this year’s event is geared to be a fun and friendly environment for families, local businesses, and law enforcement agencies across the Mecklenburg County Area to come together.

This event will include free gospel entertainment, local bands, soloists, dancers and motivational speakers. There will be plenty of activities and fun for our neighborhood children and families, even a pie-throwing stand. Local vendors and outreach groups will have booths to share. Charlotte Mecklenburg Police, Mecklenburg County Sheriff’s Office and other public safety agencies will have fun activities for kids to enjoy. Mayor Dan Clodfelter and other city officials are scheduled to speak at the event.

The purpose of this event is to create a network where the community can serve as role models, mentors, and generate an enduring relationship, where the community can teach our children how to excel, as they navigate through the life. It is also purposed to prepare the Youth to be successful in their spiritual, financial, professional, educational and personal endeavor. Since everyone benefits when our youth excels, we want to encourage them to be an industrious and volunteering product to our community. So, let’s work together to shape a brighter future for our community.

Please help us in supporting our community by attending our “Building Bridges Between Law Enforcement and Neighborhoods” outreach event. For any questions, or to get your public outreach team involved, please contact Chanelle Miller at (704) 421-1262 or email at sweetly_blessed12@live.com.
