

'I STAND WITH POSTAL WORKERS!'

Date: May 14, 2015

Time: 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM

Location: Downtown Station

201 North McDowell Street
Charlotte, NC 28204

Please come out in support of Postal Workers while we continue to fight for Good Postal service, Good Jobs and a Good contract, which will expire May 20th.

The United States Postal Service continues to fabricate the financial situation facing us as an excuse to cut and down grade service and as a justification to eliminate good living wage jobs. If they succeed WE ALL SUFFER THE CONSEQUENCES!

Your support will help as we try to maintain a contract that is fair and allows its workers to thrive, while we continue to fight for the good service you, our Public deserve!

PARKING: Little Rock AME Zion Church
401 N McDowell St
Charlotte, NC 28204
(2 blocks up from the Downtown Station)

‘I Stand With Postal Workers!’

Help Save Our Public Postal Service!

May 14 – Attend an Event at a Post Office Near You

The contract between the American Postal Workers Union and the U.S. Postal Service expires on May 20, and as the deadline approaches, postal workers have an important message:

The U.S. Postal Service is under attack. Our national treasure is in the grips of a manufactured financial crisis that is being used to justify an all-out assault on postal workers, on service to the American people, and on the Postal Service as a great public institution.

There are two competing visions for the future of the U.S. Postal Service:

Top-level postal bosses are using the ginned-up financial crisis to justify their vision: Cut service, privatize operations, and convert living-wage, union jobs into low-wage, non-union jobs. And many in Congress and on Wall Street are eager to dismantle the Postal Service so they can turn over the profitable pieces to their cronies in private industry.

The members of the APWU envision a vibrant, public Postal Service that expands hours; offers new services, such as postal banking, and gives quality service to people across the country – no matter who they are, where they live, or how much money they have.

Our vision is reflected in the demands we have brought to the bargaining table. In addition to proposals that would protect good, stable jobs, postal workers are demanding extended hours at post offices to shorten customers’ wait time in line, an end to the closure of mail sorting centers, restoration of prompt mail delivery, and the addition of postal banking.

As negotiations draw to a close, postal workers need a strong demonstration of support.

- May 14 - Attend an event at a post office near you. For locations and other info, visit www.apwu.org/national-day-action-may-14.
- Sign a postcard to Postmaster General Megan Brennan at www.apwu-pledge.org.
- Spread the word! For updated information about postal workers’ fight, visit www.apwunccc.org.

American Postal Workers Union, AFL-CIO

