

Fwd: Know an emerging civic leader?

Councilman David Howard [info@davidhowardclt.com]

Sent: Wednesday, November 11, 2015 4:54 AM

To: Steve Johnston

Great opportunity for our youth. We need more of our youth involved with the City's Youth Council. Spread the word.

Councilman David Howard

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Amy Farrell <amy@GenerationNation.org>

Date: November 10, 2015 at 7:09:37 PM EST

To: <info@davidhowardclt.com>

Subject: Know an emerging civic leader?

Reply-To: Amy Farrell <amy@GenerationNation.org>

Know an emerging civic leader?

View this email in your browser

GenerationNation Apply now for Youth Lead CLT-Meck

Do you know an emerging civic leader in grades 9-10? Teens are invited to apply to be a part of Youth Lead Charlotte-Mecklenburg Class of 2016.

Through YLCM, teens learn how the community works, understand key civic issues and perspectives, collaborate with students from other schools and backgrounds, and develop knowledge and skills needed by a new generation of Charlotte-Mecklenburg leaders. After completing YLCM, teens continue their civic leadership through the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Youth Council, also a program of GenerationNation.

Learn more and apply by November 30 for the Winter/Spring 2016 program

Students build civic literacy through Election 2015

Over 25,000 Charlotte-Mecklenburg students put civics into action through GenerationNation's mock election program. Throughout October and November, they used Election 2015 as a civic learning opportunity focused on civic literacy. They read about and interviewed the candidates, learned about local government and community issues, analyzed information, followed news, and took action by casting their own mock ballots (and earning their own I Voted stickers) at school or in community libraries and polling places, and by participating in service-learning. Learn more and see the results of the student election

Educators Network

Encourage K-12 teachers to join the GenerationNation Educators Network. GenerationNation offers free standards-based resources and activities that build civic literacy and leadership from an early age. Teachers receive timely standards-based educational resources, student learning opportunities, easy tips for integrating civic literacy into the classroom, professional development, and more. Sign up for the Educators Network

Now through December 1, help to educate a new generation of citizens and leaders

GenerationNation's proud to partner with Share Charlotte and 100 local organizations for #GivingTuesdayCLT.

Volunteer

Make a tax-deductible gift

Sponsor or underwrite a program

As part of this seasonal giving campaign, all donations made to GenerationNation from November 10 until Giving Tuesday on December 1 will help us earn matching funds. It is the perfect time to make your gift! You'll help K-12 students - a new generation of citizens and leaders - to build civic literacy, narrow learning opportunity gaps, and develop important knowledge and skills for college, career, and civic life.

Friend of GenerationNation

Thank you for being a friend of GenerationNation! We'll be in touch periodically to share timely news, learning opportunities, and ways that you can champion GenerationNation's mission of K-12 civic literacy and youth civic leadership. You can always find program and resource information at www.generationnation.org and get more frequent updates by following GenerationNation on social media. We appreciate your interest!

Copyright © 2015 GenerationNation, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you are a friend of GenerationNation.

Our mailing address is:

GenerationNation
700 East Stonewall Street, Suite 710
Charlotte, NC 28202

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

 Connected to Microsoft Exchange