

Help us select the next superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education has begun its search for the next superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools. National search firm McPherson & Jacobson and independent education advocacy group MeckEd will each host a series of county-wide community engagement sessions through Sept. 29. Come share your ideas about the qualities needed in the next superintendent and the most important topics facing the district. Your feedback, which will be shared publicly in the fall, will help inform candidate interviews and the selection of semifinalists.
