In partnership with Publix Super Markets Charities, up to 1,000 individuals will receive a new pair of shoes. Representatives from churches, government officials, police officers, and community volunteers will wash the feet of shoe recipients, encourage them, and then place a new pair of socks and shoes on their feet. This will be a time for the city to be united, humbly serving one another. This is the second annual Reconcile Charlotte shoe distribution event.

Samaritan's Feet was started in 2003 by Manny Ohonme, who received his first pair of shoes from a missionary when he was a child in Nigeria. Those shoes allowed him to learn and play basketball, ultimately earning him a sports scholarship in the U.S. A simple pair of shoes and the kindness shared by this "Good Samaritan" changed the course of Manny's life. The mission of Samaritan's Feet's is to bring that same message of hope and love to children and adults in the U.S. and around the world.
