

To all my Friends, I urge your consideration,

This year Aviation Camps of the Carolinas would like your support in helping us raise $15,000 so that 200 young people can experience their “ah ha” moment by attending upcoming camps during 2018, thanks to our Fundraising Campaign. Aviation Camps of the Carolinas is a 501c3 non profit program that is committed to inspiring, encouraging, and mentoring youth. We focus on bringing solutions to our community by showing young people amazing secret careers in aviation. Then we give them permission to actually believe that they could do these wonderful jobs. We topped that off with a confidence builder that makes them realize, of course, “I can do anything I want to do.”

Donations of any amount are currently being accepted. Please submit by sending your donation in the self-addressed envelope enclosed (check or money order only) or online at SuccessfulAttitude.com/Sponsorship2018.pdf. Additionally please review the enclosed brochure for details about sponsorship opportunities. Informational meetings for interested sponsors are being scheduled now. Call 704-391-8625 to schedule your briefing today. Tell your company or organization, that this is where their support and energy should be when they want to make a difference in our Community, City, and Country. These are our future decision-makers and leaders.

Aviation Camps of the Carolinas will not be able to reach this goal without your financial support. We are asking you to help us invest in our young people, can we count on you? We thank you in advance for your contribution and we look forward to having successful camps this year with your help!

With warm regards,

Brenda E. Robinson, Founder
Aviation Camps of The Carolinas

PART OF THE SOLUTION

My name is Brenda Robinson and I am the first African American female Navy pilot. After 42 years of flying 12 different airplanes, retiring from American Airlines as a widebody pilot, I know what it takes to get the job done. And I want every student that I ever come in contact with to know the details on how to follow in my footsteps.

I fell in love with aviation while in school, and it was this exposure at a young age that prompted my historic path to soar, and I will never look back. All I want to do is excel and achieve great things; not for myself, but for the young people of our region who never thought to dream beyond the 12 mile horizon, reality shows, and what current event TV, promotes as options.

When a student knows how to break the stereotype, they immediately become self motivated in the direction that gives them the most joy. And on their own, they realize that it's going to take some extra effort on their part to study, learn, and elevate their learning process to achieve new goals. Who would not want to be a part of that?

Students excited about learning come to Aviation Camps of the Carolinas and leave with a whole new perspective that they can incorporate immediately at any school, at any time. Students are better prepared to overcome set backs, leaping well ahead of their friends, and surprisingly, put on the proper path to becoming everything they've ever wanted to be.

At Aviation Camps of the Carolinas, We don't teach. We don't quiz. We don't ask for essays. When students come to us we give them back to you with a higher emphasis on motivation and completing their studies, and even, their homework. And isn't that what we want? We want an energetic workforce, with people who have technology in their DNA, and are looking for a satisfying place in the world where they can exhibit that energy as well as make a difference.

I am looking forward to these young people leading our nation, becoming world leaders, improving the things we need now, and inventing the things we will need in the future. Be a part of the solution. Join our 2018 Fundraising Campaign today. Help us make Aviation Camps of the Carolinas programs available to every student in the region. See enclosures for details.

Thanks so much,

LCDR Brenda Robinson

Brenda's goal is to enlighten everyone she comes in contact with in one day. That they too can do anything they set their minds to. And they do not have to do it alone.

EVENT OVERVIEW

Aviation Camps of the Carolinas Inc. SPONSORSHIP PACKAGE

Brenda E Robinson, the President of Aviation Camps of the Carolinas Inc. as well as owner of Successful Attitude, has been a celebrity here in the Charlotte area for over 25 years. She is most well known as the first African American women to become a Naval Aviator in history. Brenda is a career Navy Pilot and a career Airline pilot. She now reaches out to schools and organizations to introduce students to “behind the scenes” aviation careers that create a buzz at her quarterly camps. See her interviews at: SuccessfulAttitude.com/media

Commander Robinson has created this unique program that reaches out to students the same way it was presented to her decades ago. First, start with one secret, unknown career, such as Air Traffic Control, which creates a sleepless night sensation. Then, on autopilot, watch the inquires and desire to CREATE a path to achieve. Students, just like Brenda may change their goals as more secrets are revealed, but that is the beauty of pure motivation.

The number of experienced engineers leaving the workforce will be almost impossible to replace without more young people interested in Sciences Technology Engineering and Math. Students, grades 4-12 from every school are welcome to participate. To create this program for unlimited access, no cost to the schools, allows Aviation Camps of the Carolinas to bring in this “like minded, career exposure” theme, which will strike a cord with countless young people.

Boy Scouts of America have benefited from this Aviation Career program as it is possible to achieve the Aviation Merit Badge during this one day action packed camp. We complete every requirement of the manual in one day. Remember, Brenda is an expert in all phases of aviation and has access to much, much more.
