This special program targeted to men across race and culture in Charlotte is as vital today than ever before. This courageous dialogue features excerpts from the ground breaking film The Color of Fear, directed by Lee Mun Wah, addresses the painful scars of American racism and the price of reconciliation among North American men of Asian, European, Latino and African descent. What can emerge is a deeper sense of understanding and trust among multicultural men required to address the most intractable problems of bias and racism in Charlotte. The conversation will be facilitated by WIE Champions, leaders and diversity practitioners. Refreshments will be served.

SERIES 2: Inspiring Trust to Transform Charlotte

THE WOMEN'S INTER-CULTURAL EXCHANGE CHAMPIONS IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE LEVINE MUSEUM OF THE NEW SOUTH PRESENT

INSPIRING TRUST TO TRANSFORM CHARLOTTE

Film/Discussion and Reception with Dorothy Counts-Scoggins & Steve Crump

May 9, 2018

6-8 pm

Levine Museum of the New South

Free Event - REGISTER NOW

The film, 9/4/57, is a documentary by independent producer and WBTV reporter Steve Crump which chronicles the story that circulated across the world about the attitudes of a community both then and now and how Dorothy Counts became the face of school integration in Charlotte. Interviews with Counts and individuals who were present that day include apologies for what happened more than 50 years ago. September 4, 1957 will be remembered for the violence that unfolded at Harding High School when 15-year-old Dorothy Counts became its first black student. Counts was spat upon, stoned, and taunted by angry white hecklers. The film showing will be followed by a facilitated audience discussion with Crump and Counts-Scoggins.
