

Cuba 2018

Nature's Friends present.....

Eco-Dialogue in Cuba June 4-11 2018 and/or

Resilience Training June 10-24, 2018

Join us in Cuba for lessons in sustainability. The tour is meant to enhance the learning of Nature's Friends members and students about sustainability and agroecology, as well as urban and rural life in Cuba. In 2015, the Nature's Friends Network invited leaders, students, and allies from communities of color to an international conversation in Cuba to review policies and practices which focus on sustainability in our neighborhoods. Meet community leaders and their allies around river health and water security. The Resilience Training takes the sustainability conversation deeper into a 14-day training including permaculture/agroecology service projects.
