Entrepreneurial Training & Support for our Reentry Population

Reimagining returning citizens as a new class of entrepreneurs & innovators

City Startup Labs (CSL) is now offering returning citizens in Charlotte the opportunity to develop and exercise their entrepreneurial capabilities with a new initiative through its Center of Excellence — the ReEntry Entrepreneurship Program (REEP). This program is designed to guide the participants through the process a researching, planning and launching new businesses, while developing the entrepreneurial mindset, attitude, and aptitude for success.

If you are formerly incarcerated or know someone who is and want to be a business builder or if you want to mentor this new entrepreneurial class, sign up at the website so that we can follow up with you...
