Congratulations to the winners of the AI and the News Open Challenge!

Seven projects today are receiving \$750,000 to explore and shape the impact that artificial intelligence is having on the field of news and information.

The projects will tackle a variety of problems, including:

- Confronting bad actors spreading misinformation through messaging platforms;
- Equipping journalists with the technology they need to quickly sift through reams of information;
- Tackling emerging threats posed by AI-generated fakes, and more.

The challenge is a project of the Ethics and Governance of AI Initiative, funded in part by Knight Foundation.

You can learn about the winners on the initiative's website.
