Community Engagement

This year, we've forged strong community partnerships that have enabled us to create meaningful connections between our students and the surrounding community. We are also proud to share that we've hosted more community engagement events in Charlotte than ever before: delivering valuable tutoring sessions to our students.

Thank you to the following organizations for attending Tutor For A Day events throughout the year: Beta Alpha Psi at UNC Charlotte, Central Piedmont Community College, and Ecomdash. We also appreciate the many book donations we have received from partners including the Key Club at Providence High School and Queen's University, and a book grant from the KPMG Foundation. Thank you to our community partners for making this year great!
