Council for Children's Rights

This time of year usually means the end of school and the beginning of endless summer fun...

But not for all kids.

Council for Children's Rights has had a very strong year. Fighting for more fair-minded legal outcomes to ensure better futures for kids. Healing broken families torn apart by ugly custody battles. Connecting forgotten children in the mental health system with the services they need and deserve. Launching the most comprehensive State of the Children report our county has ever seen.

But we still need you.

We have a goal of $45,000 to meet by June 30 – and we're already 18% there!

And we know we can achieve our goal with your help.

There are thousands of reasons to give to the Council, but here's a reminder of the most important one...

Every child matters.
It is by far the best investment anyone ever made.
