Health Care Can't Wait is a statewide solidarity vigil from mountains to sea to remember the people who have died and also those who are suffering because they don't have health care.

These vigils are taking place throughout the state on the same day and same time, because unaffordable and unavailable health care affects all of NC!

Impacted community members are invited to share their stories, including people who need healthcare or their caretakers, medical and mental health professionals, educators, faith leaders, and other community stakeholders.
