Steve -

We're just two weeks out from Election Day, and we have some good news and some bad news.

We'll start with the good news:

The latest polling shows our race is tied at 46% to 46%, and the momentum is on our side. Dan's message is resonating with undecided voters, and Democrats are fired up. Our team is doing everything we can to make sure voters hear Dan's message and turn out to vote.

Here's the bad news:

This week, two far-right Republican PACs are increasing their spending, and Donald Trump is planning his next rally with our opponent. That means more false attacks against Dan are coming.

If we don't have the resources it takes to compete with their special interest spending, it could be trouble for us.

If we're going to stop them, then we need our supporters to step up and help us fight back.

National Republicans are willing to spend and say whatever it takes to try to hold onto this seat. But together, we can stop them and flip the 9th District.
