Action NC is forging new ground as a multiracial grassroots organizing collective committed to building power with and among people in North Carolina

Our work throughout 2019 has been focused on both breaking barriers and building bridges. As we look toward 2020, we want to amplify the extraordinary work we have been doing and we need your help to do it.

On this #GivingTuesday we ask that you join in creating a stronger, vibrant, and inclusive North Carolina.

Building Bridges

We have been building bridges with RAGE. Action NC's Race and Gender Equity initiative is creating and deepening alliances among Black and Brown women across the state to increase our political and personal power.

We have been building bridges among law enforcement, public health officials, and community activists to combat gun violence in our communities.

We have been building bridges among immigrant communities and legal services as we work to secure universal representation for immigrants facing deportation.

Breaking Barriers

We have been breaking barriers in healthcare reform and advocating with state and federal partners to dismantle price-gouging practices among pharmaceutical companies.

We have been breaking barriers by supporting people in low-income communities to organize and advocate for themselves to create stronger, healthier and safer communities.

Action NC: We are 5000 members, we are North Carolinians, we are black women, we are Latinx men, we are young people, we are seniors citizens, we are the ones we have been waiting for. Your support today, will ensure that we all continue to build bridges and break barriers together.
