Dear Sarah,

This week, VISION is continuing our deep dive into the COVID-19 “infodemic.” We’ll be joined by Renée DiResta, a Stanford researcher and widely-cited expert on digital misinformation, to discuss how digital networks have paved the way for COVID-19 misinformation.

Renée DiResta is the technical research manager at Stanford Internet Observatory, a cross-disciplinary program of research, teaching and policy engagement for the study of abuse in current information technologies. DiResta investigates the spread of malign narratives across social networks, and assists policymakers in devising responses to the problem.
