Dear Families, YOU'RE INCREDIBLE.

Reading Checkups are happening left & right!

On June 8, a community-wide effort launched to support families in learning their rising K-4 child's current reading level and accessing activities to meet their specific needs. We are inspired by how many families have embraced this to help their children between now and school returning in the fall.

We want you to know that we're here for you.

- If you're interested in attending an online Reading Checkup LIVE please sign up here.
- If you're on Facebook and looking to connect with other Charlotte families through your Reading Checkup process in a private community group, please submit the request to join here.
- If you prefer finding written answers to your questions or watching short video tutorials, visit our FAQ page.

Have you completed the quizzes with your child and you're now ready to dive right into the activities this summer? Here's the direct link to step two of the Reading Checkup.
