Steve, Happy Independence Day!

Today is a celebration of the founding of our great country and is a reminder of the courage it takes to demand and defend one's freedom.

This year, those lessons of sacrifice for the sake of others are more prevalent than ever. Americans across the country are carrying on that legacy today, from taking action in our democracy to defending our nation abroad.

Here in North Carolina, we are still taking precautions with the surging cases of COVID-19 -- no big parades or large gatherings of friends and neighbors to watch the fireworks this year. But that doesn't mean that we won't be showing our love for our country.

To the service men and women risking their lives to protect ours, we thank you. And to those continuing to peacefully demand equality, we hear you. Together, we will continue to strive for a more perfect union.

Be safe and be well,

Cynthia
