We should expect honesty from our leaders

Steve,

"I wanted to always play it down."

"It goes through the air...And so that's a very tricky one... It's also more deadly than even your strenuous flu."

As I told the Charlotte Observer, Trump's recorded words are appalling. We should expect honesty from our leaders. Honesty doesn't cause panic, it's what Americans expect, especially when health and safety are at risk. And Dan Bishop has been vocal about his support of this lack of response since day one.

Dan Bishop is a healthcare extremist who will play along with Trump's lies for brownie points. That's not leading for North Carolinians. Will you chip in \$20 right now so we can end Trump and Bishop's charade in November?

Dan Bishop, who voted against the overwhelmingly bipartisan Families First Coronavirus Response Act, has also supported efforts to kick millions off their insurance, even during a pandemic. He actively opposes Medicaid expansion here in North Carolina. And he's accepted over $50,000 in campaign contributions from the insurance industry.

It doesn't have to be this way for NC-09. In Congress, I'll be the representative who will tell people the truth, who follows science and facts, and who will fight to expand healthcare coverage and defend the Affordable Care Act.

But making sure that we can have stronger, honest leadership in Congress means not slowing down between now and Election Day. And we need to power-up our campaign to have the resources to grow our team and launch our communications program.

Help us give NC-09 the leadership it deserves. Chip in \$20 today to help get our message out and expose Bishop's record of falling for Trump's lies.

Thank you,

Cynthia
