Dear Sarah,

This week on "Coast to Coast," we'll hear from an authority on forward-thinking cities, Gabe Klein, co-founder of Cityfi. Together, we'll talk through ways city leaders can evaluate the costs and benefits of social services, the economic challenges communities are managing during the pandemic, and what steps leaders can take to continue to provide essential services for their communities. We hope you'll join us for this important conversation.

EPISODE 18: DRIVING SOCIAL IMPACT DURING CRISIS with guest: Gabe Klein

Gabe Klein is the co-founder and president of Cityfi, a platform for urban change management that promotes positive, sustainable change for people and the economy. Gabe is also the former commissioner of the Chicago and Washington D.C. Departments of Transportation. In 2015, Gabe published

"Start-Up City" with David Vega-Barachowitz, a manifesto on revamping how (and how fast) we innovate in cities with an objective to inspire what he calls "public entrepreneurship."

Our guest will take questions from the audience and social media viewers. Join the conversation by using #knightlive.
