Early voting has started in North Carolina and voters across the district are flocking to polling locations to make their voice heard.

Are you joining them? Do you plan to vote early this election?

YES NO

Steve,

Election Day is right around the corner, and early voting has already begun. We've seen thousands of voters across NC-09 voting since polling locations opened last Thursday.

Early voting allows voters the ability to show up at the polls when it fits in their schedule, not just in the confines of one day on the first Tuesday in November. It is vital to making sure our voices are heard in the most critical election of a generation. I've been talking with voters about making a plan to vote early all weekend, so I wanted to check in with you, Steve, to see how you're planning to cast your ballot this year:

Are you planning to vote early this election?

YES NO

Thanks for making your vote count!
