Greetings Steve & Team:

I trust you are doing well and please stay health during this pandemic. Thanks for posting this flyer on website and your social media. North Carolina NABSE are partnering with Zaner-Bloser Publishing Company in offering a series of Webinars on Science of Reading. These webinars are a great resource not onlyfor teachers with failing schools but for all preK-4th grade. Teachers will receive strategies and best practices for all children and especially children of color. Pre K-4 Teachers are invited to attend!

Now that the elections are over, we must lobby with legislators and hold them accountable for ensuring our children receive a quality education. We need everyone to join us for the voiceless children and families who can't speak for themselves. Happy Thanksgiving!
