This Giving Tuesday, invest in a brighter tomorrow

Hi there,

Michelle and I started this Foundation to pass on the baton of leadership to a new generation. We wanted to invest in these leaders because we believed they would help us build a better future.

But this year, we learned something new—these leaders aren't just building a better future, they're safeguarding our present.

By donating to our Foundation on Giving Tuesday, you won't just be investing in the leaders of tomorrow; you'll be making a difference in the world today.

As someone who's followed the Foundation's work for some time, you've witnessed the impact these leaders can have, firsthand. In the face of relentless tragedy and civil unrest across 2020, from the COVID-19 pandemic to shocking acts of police violence, it was these young people who have stepped up to lead in their communities and demand change.

This Giving Tuesday, I'm asking you to join me in supporting these emerging leaders. The world needs their leadership, but they can't do it on their own.

We need to empower their work and connect them to each other so they can have an even bigger impact. And we need your support to make that happen.

—Barack
