Styled by Stacey

Stacey is a wardrobe stylist and fashion insider who has been featured on E News!, FOX and BET, among others. You can find her styling famous athletes, celebrities and artists around the Queen City and across the nation.

Now Stacey's shopping for you! Each month, both of Goodwill's fashion-focused GW boutiques will feature Stacee's hand-selected pieces! The first Styled by Stacee collection launches Friday, February 12, at both GW locations – 3609 South Boulevard and 5301 Wilkinson Boulevard.

Theme of the Month: Monochromatic Neutrals

Monochromatic, or one-color, looks are a top trend right now for a reason. They convey a polished and chic appearance, can be worn at any time of the day or year, and create a slimming effect when kept simple!

Stacee's Tips

Have you considered wearing a monochromatic outfit but worried you'd look too matchy-matchy or too plain? Here are three expert styling tips on how to pull off a monochromatic look.

Embrace New Neutrals

Harness the full visual impact of monochromatic neutrals by creating an outfit using a single color, but in a variety of hues and shades. This way, you achieve the toned-down look of being neutral while being anything but plain! Mix in muted tones of trendy colors like deep olive green, pastel-bright pink or, from the look below, toasty mauve.

Mix It Up With Prints

Wear prints to bring complexity in a monochromatic outfit. Start with a small print, then find the base color and mix in different shades with your other outfit pieces. Simple or muted prints add visual richness to the single-color look. Stacee coupled this printed button-down with pants in a matching shade of pale pink, a jacket in rose and blush sneakers.

Three's the Magic Number

You can easily build a monochrome outfit around an item or two you already own. Just add a matching "third" piece, like an accessory or outerwear, from GW boutiques. Inspired by Valentine's Day, Stacee styled this red-hot ensemble with a long blazer and cross-body micropurse.

All the items shown here, and hundreds more like them will be available at both GW boutiques on Friday, February 12! Just look for the Styled by Stacey price tags to find items hand selected by Stacey.
