Behind-The-Scenes Tour of Memorial Stadium

After welcoming hundreds of thousands of guests through its gates, and hosting countless events since its post World War II construction, Charlotte's American Legion Memorial Stadium is ready to shine once more. With an all-new and expanded footprint and modern amenities, Memorial Stadium is ready to play host to soccer, football, and more this fall. A long time in the making, this has been one of Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation's largest recent projects. Take a look at this amazing update you'll only see here: <https://partnersforparks.org/memorial-stadium/>

Welcome to Wilmore Centennial Park at South End

It was a project more than ten years in the making, but neighbors in Charlotte's Wilmore, South End, and LoSo neighborhoods finally have a public green space to call their own. The Wilmore Centennial Park at South End is a 1.4 acre people and pet-friendly oasis near some of the Queen City's fastest-growing neighborhoods. See more from this beautiful, accessible park — and learn why park planners are calling it a "jewel!": <https://partnersforparks.org/wilmore-centennial-park/>

Miles & Music Puts the "Fun" in Fundraising

Run some miles. Drink beer. Listen to music. Sounds like the perfect "run club" night, right? It was also the perfect fundraiser for Partners for Parks, a beneficiary of Around the Crown 10K presented by Truist, the landmark road race coming up in September. The ATC10K crew organized a fun run at NoDa Brewing, after which runners could enjoy a beer and some live music. Partners for Parks joined the fun for the July 9th event, as ATC10K, LendScout, and NoDa Brewing helped raise money for Open Streets 704, Partners for Parks' premier event.

Missed this one? You can still sign up for the September 5
