News You Can Use

ULCC's mission is to advocate for and equip African Americans and all underserved communities with the tools to achieve social and economic equality.

Fall is here and the holidays are right around the corner, but I invite you to take some time to read our November Newsletter to see the exciting things happening at the Urban League of Central Carolinas. We have two great events coming up, two new faces on the staff and we are still stressing the importance of the COVID vaccine. Most importantly, we are continuing to Fight For You!

If you would like to make an impact, please invest now so we can keep Empowering Communities and Changing Lives.

URBAN INSTITUTE SCHUL FORUM SERIES: NOV. 18

Fiftieth out of 50. Worst large metro region for economic mobility. Housing is too expensive. Homelessness numbers are growing. The racial wealth gap is really a chasm. That's the focus of the 2021 Schul Forum: Moving the Needle in Charlotte and Beyond. We'll be talking about the challenges facing us and the solutions that we can implement to help our community.

A keynote address from Andre M. Perry of The Brookings Institution

A local panel with:

- Dr. Sharon L. Gaber, University of North Carolina at Charlotte Chancellor
- Dr. Byron P. White, Ed.D, University of North Carolina at Charlotte Office of Urban Research and Community Engagement
- Laura Yates Clark, United Way of Central Carolinas
- Sherri Chisholm, Leading on Opportunity
- Kacey Grantham (she/her), RoadtoHire
- W. Teddy McDaniel, III, Urban League of Central Carolinas

MOVING THE NEEDLE IN CHARLOTTE AND BEYOND

November 18 | 1:30 -5 pm

Fiftieth out of 50. Worst large metro region for economic mobility. Housing is too expensive. Homelessness numbers are growing. The racial wealth gap is really a chasm. The gaps between students who have and students who make do without are growing. And the COVID-19 pandemic exposed the divides in our society when it comes to jobs, economic opportunity, prosperity and security more vividly than any crisis in generations.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Andre Perry
