Good afternoon!

We are reaching out to you about a search Next Stage is leading for several Student Engagement Coordinators for Communities In Schools of Charlotte-Mecklenburg \(CIS-Charlotte\).

The mission of Communities In Schools is to surround students with a community of support, empowering them to stay in school and achieve in life. Additionally, the organization is focused on reimagining the learning environment for students with a holistic approach. Currently, the CIS staff is embedded in 54 CMS schools providing essential supports to students and their families.

As a trusted liaison, CMS has tapped the CIS team to assist them in a district-wide effort to assess how the pandemic has impacted students and their engagement in school, and how to best determine the supports needed for successful and lasting reengagement. Student Engagement Coordinators will serve as a critical component of in-school efforts and foundational interventions for students.

For your reference, please read the Coordinator position announcement here. Additional roles supporting students and families can be found on the CIS Careers page.

Also, feel free to forward this announcement to your network. If you have a personal interest or referrals for this important role, we welcome the opportunity to connect by email or phone at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for your consideration and thoughtfulness in this effort. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

In Partnership,

Helen Hope Kimbrough
