Steve,

My name is Liz Walters and I'm Chairwoman of the Ohio Democratic Party. My friends at Dirt Road PAC suggested I reach out to you after Republican attempts to gerrymander Ohio's legislative and congressional maps in their favor was temporarily halted. Last month, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled for the SECOND TIME that the preliminary maps of Ohio's legislative districts were unconstitutional.

The maps Ohio Republicans presented would have disenfranchised voters across the state — especially Black and brown voters — and they directly ignored the court's demand to make the maps reflective of the state.

This is a huge win for us. But we have to keep up the pressure to ensure the new maps are fair for every voter. It won't be easy, Republicans have plenty of tricks up their sleeves to keep the maps leaning in their favor.

Will you help us fight for fair maps in Ohio by splitting a donation to the Ohio Democratic Party and Dirt Road PAC to ensure we hit our \$7,000 March mid-month goal before Tuesday's deadline? Every dollar helps us end the political games Ohio Republicans are playing.

We won't lie, this will be an uphill battle: Republicans will always put their own interests above the interests of hardworking Ohioans. But we're not going to stand by silently as the Ohioans we serve are betrayed.

The future of our state and our country is at stake — the majority in Congress could very well come down to Ohio. While Republicans look out for themselves, we're looking out for working Ohioans. And I hope we can count on your support in this fight.
