"I Feel a Sense of Urgency behind Everything We Do"

Check out my recent interview with Joe Bruno at WSOC on The Political Beat here. I talk about the sense of urgency I feel behind everything that we do on city council from affordable housing, public safety, to congestion and traffic.

My daughter Charlotte has added important perspective to my life about the challenges families face. We must do our best to create the best environment possible so all can prosper. I am committed to building a community for future generations that we can be proud of.
