The Urban League of Central Carolinas is looking for community members, business leaders, thought leaders and those committed to the Movement to join the League Alliance. But what is the League Alliance?

The League Alliance:

- Will be where strategy, support, capital, agency, and capacity intersect masterfully in the central Carolinas.
- Will serve as the bridge from the ULCC Young Professional Auxiliary
- Is a consortium of civic, business, service and cultural leaders in the Carolinas that wants to work towards systems change.
- Will be grounded in utilizing the targeted universalism framework to support and improve economic and social impact and prosperity for those historically misrepresented, underserved, and/or under-represented.

Most importantly, the League Alliance should become the service and advocacy force multiplier in the community.
