Steve,

The Supreme Court will likely overturn Roe v. Wade in the next few months – and when they do, at least 36 million women in more than 28 states will lose access to the fundamental right to make personal decisions about their own body.

This is an appalling decision that turns the clock back on women's rights by nearly 50 years, taking our country back to a time when women had no choice but to undergo dangerous back-alley procedures.

Make no mistake, Steve; this is a coordinated attack on a fundamental right that the GOP has planned for decades. I'll never stop fighting for the right to reproductive choice – and if I win this Senate race, Democrats can use our expanded pro-choice majority to federally codify abortion rights.

My friend Jaime Harrison founded Dirt Road PAC to help Democrats compete and win in states like Florida. That's why I'm reaching out.

If you're ready to join the fight for reproductive freedom, will you split \$10 or more between my campaign and Dirt Road PAC today? Every contribution will help me flip Florida blue and take action to protect abortion access for all.
