

Meet Carolyn

My husband and I have a blended family of 5 adult children and 4 beautiful grandchildren. My parents taught me the importance of earning my way in this world through hard work and educational accomplishments.

I stand on the shoulders of generations who paved the way for my academic career at Hampton

University, where I earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree and my Juris Doctor Degree from North Carolina Central University School of Law. Their servant leadership testament instilled in me at an early age that “to whom much is given, much is required.” I honor their sacrifices with a dedication to serve others and earn unfailing leadership.

“I believe I can make a difference in the service of equal justice as required by our laws and constitution. True justice is independent of party affiliation, divisive ideologies, and social differences. I have taken and believe in the oath to uphold our laws and constitution consistently. As the next Court of Appeals judge for all North Carolinians, I am committed to serving with integrity, fairness, and impartiality.”

The NC Court of Appeals currently does not represent the diversity and inclusion of our state. We need to preserve democracy in our courts.

State of the Race

Carolyn Thompson is running for the open seat on the NC Court of Appeals that is being vacated by Lucy Inman to run for the NC Supreme Court.

Thompson's 25 year experience as a thorough and fair legal mind has earned her the confidence of North Carolina luminaries such as Governor Roy Cooper, Former Congresswoman Eva Clayton, and Congressman G.K. Butterfield.

Thompson served as District Court Judge for Franklin, Granville, Vance, and Warren counties from 2009-2018.

In 2018, Thompson was appointed by Governor Cooper to serve as a Superior Court Judge. She was the first African American and first woman to serve in the 9th Judicial District.

Dark money groups will be pouring thousands of dollars into the statewide court races because of the role state courts will play in the 2022 Congressional Redistricting.

This seat is an 8-year term, so it is a huge opportunity to ensure the long-term security of our vitally important state courts.
