Tonight the City of Charlotte hosts the first of several Community Engagement Events for its Arts and Culture Plan.

This week community members, stakeholders, artists, and cultural organizations will gather to learn more about the plan and weigh in on how it can be improved and customized to the needs of the city of Charlotte.

To stay in the know on these events and more, follow @CLTgov on social media, and sign up to receive email updates via the City of Charlotte Arts and Culture Plan page.

Over the weekend the City of Charlotte welcomed back it's famed Pride Parade and Festival to the tune of 275,000 participants! What a beautiful site to behold.

On Saturday, the Civility Localized team was in West Charlotte for A Vibe Outside. It was a great event filled with music, art, and fun. We love engaging you at events like these. Check out our pictures below and we hope to see you at our next event!

See you out there,
