

Grow literacy skills with Active Reading

From Read Charlotte <elise@readcharlotte.org>
To Steve Johnston <sjohnston@tuesdayforumcharlotte.org>
Date 2022-09-14 18:59

Brush up on Active Reading skills with a workshop!

As you and your family settle into a new school year, remember to use Active Reading at home to unlock the power of reading with your child!

Active Reading, a way to read WITH kids, rather than TO them, is a great, easy-to-incorporate approach that can help grow your child's literacy skills. When you're reading a book, follow the ABCs: Ask questions, Build vocabulary, and Connect to the child's world.

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Library offers monthly workshops to help you learn and practice Active Reading: Active Reading Training, tailored to adults only, and Active Reading Family Workshops, tailored to adults and children together.

- Active Reading Training: Sept. 26, 6 p.m., virtual
- Active Reading Training: Sept. 27, 6 p.m., North County Regional Library
- Active Reading Family Workshop: Sept. 28, 10 a.m., virtual

Register Now

Keep the learning going after school for your elementary-age child with informational books! Visit HomeReadingHelper.org for more ideas on skills to practice at home.

Nominate a Read Charlotte Reading Hero

Read Charlotte recognizes ordinary people in Mecklenburg County doing extraordinary things to improve children's reading. To create change for our children, Read Charlotte needs the help of the whole community.

Do you know someone going above and beyond to help children succeed in reading? Nominate them to be a Read Charlotte Reading Hero!

 Share  Tweet  Forward

Copyright © 2022 Read Charlotte, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
220 N Tryon Street
Charlotte, North Carolina 28202

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.