Steve,

It's Dr. Annie Andrews, candidate to represent South Carolina's First Congressional District in Congress. I want to tell you about my race, but first, I need to ask you to chip in to my race and Dirt Road PAC so we can win in the final few weeks of this campaign:

My MAGA celebrity opponent is Nancy Mace. She's an NRA A-lister who has turned her back on her constituents in the Lowcountry, voting against common sense gun violence prevention measures, stopping the baby formula crisis, addressing our rising sea levels in Charleston, and codifying abortion rights into federal law.

If you need further evidence of just how extreme Mace is: She helped write South Carolina's draconian current 6-week abortion ban.

No matter how she is trying to spin her choices now, the fact is the ONLY woman Nancy Mace has ever fought for is Nancy Mace.

I'm a proud pediatrician and split my time between the campaign trail and helping kids and their families at the hospital in our community.

I've seen too many kids with bullet wounds, whose families can't afford the hospital stay, and that experience is why I know it's time for a real change in leadership for our communities.

That's why we need to win in November. With the election coming so soon, can you split a contribution between my campaign and Dirt Road PAC so we have the resources to win in 23 days?

We need leaders who will protect our rights, not cut them down. We have to win in districts like this one to expand our majority, protect our reproductive healthcare, and deliver for working families all across the country.

Your support makes this possible, so thank you for standing with us.

— Annie
