I have an urgent update, Steve: Donald Trump is holding his final 2022 Florida rally tonight.

Republicans are terrified that their grip on Florida is in serious danger: It's why our state is one of Trump's last rallies. CNN is calling Marco Rubio one of the most vulnerable senators in the country — and Florida Senate races come down to the margin of error (0.12 points in the last race).

Trump is riling up his base because we're building the momentum to win — and the GOP is desperate to keep this seat red because Florida could determine Senate control.

I have a major tailwind at my back because of grassroots donors like you, Steve — but experts are predicting this will be the most expensive Senate race ever. And Trump, Mitch McConnell and GOP outside groups are already pouring millions into this race and pulling out every trick in the book to defeat me.

I can't stand up to the millions of dollars that the GOP is throwing behind Marco Rubio alone. If I'm going to win in Florida and defend and expand our Senate majority, I need this grassroots team to step up right now. Tonight's rally proves it.

Moments like this are a crucial test for our campaign — and whether we can muster the resources it truly takes to win and defend Democratic control of the Senate. I appreciate you doing your part and stepping up, and I'm so grateful for each and every member of this team.
