

Making a difference: Volunteer tutors share their stories

From Read Charlotte <elise@readcharlotte.org>
To Steve Johnston <sjohnston@tuesdayforumcharlotte.org>
Date 2022-11-14 11:00

Creating change, one child at a time

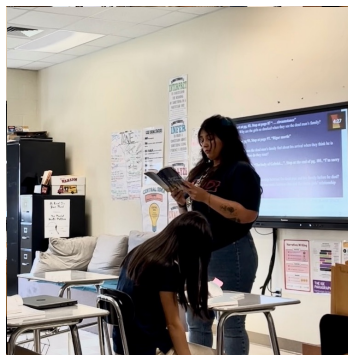

Big change often starts small, and that's certainly the case when it comes to tutoring. The decision to volunteer your time each week can change a child's life, and your own.

Hear from tutors in our community on why volunteering is so meaningful to them, and learn more about signing up to become a tutor yourself.

Read the blog

Reading Hero: Rubi Jaimes Parra

Teacher Rubi Jaimes Parra is building a community of avid readers at her school, and that's why we've chosen her as a Read Charlotte Reading Hero!

Read more about how she encourages her students to develop a love for reading here.

Do you know someone going above and beyond to see children succeed in reading? Nominate them to be a Reading Hero!

Reading Here:

IN THE NEWS

- The Charlotte Weekly: November 10, 2022
Community groups bring reading platform to Pre-K classes
- Reach Out & Read Podcast: September 15, 2022
Read Charlotte Executive Director Munro Richardson

Share

Tweet

Forward

Copyright © 2022 Read Charlotte, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

220 N. Tryon Street
Charlotte, NC 28202

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list