New RURAL PROJECT

Dear Steve,

Moore County, North Carolina (one of New Rural Project's seven focus counties) is currently in the news because of the apparent intentional attack on their power grid on Saturday, December 3rd. Not only is it a focus county, but three of our team members, including co-founder, Helen, live in Moore County so this incident hits home to us.

At the height of this disaster, over 45,000 homes and businesses were without power. Currently, around 30,000 homes and businesses still do not have power, which means not only have they been very cold during our 30 - 40 degree nights, but many of them have lost all of their refrigerated and frozen foods.

Friends and partners have asked what they can do to help us and the people of Moore County. Well, here's how! NRP would like to purchase \$50 grocery store gift cards to distribute to hundreds of families in need to replace the food they had to discard.

Your generous donation of \$50 TODAY will help us support at least one family so that they can begin to replace the perishable food that had to be discarded.

NRP stands in solidarity with our team members, volunteers, partners and the broader Moore County community whose lives have been upended by this awful event.

DONATE TO HELP MOORE COUNTY FAMILIES

With gratitude,

Doug Wilson
Board Chair, New Rural Project
