Hi there,

Happy New Year—and what a year it's been.

When Barack and I left the White House in 2017, we created the Obama Foundation to inspire the next generation of leaders to create the change they want to see in the world.

Like Barack, I'm deeply proud of the young people I've had the chance to meet from around the world who are already making progress on a range of issues, from protecting and strengthening our democracies, to helping the girls get the education they deserve, to supporting our boys and young men of color.

And you've been a part of it.

Your support has helped us create these meaningful opportunities for the leaders we serve. I hope you'll make a donation today so we can create even more in the year ahead.

Thanks to your support, we've launched leadership programs in the United States and abroad that are connecting emerging changemakers and equipping them with the tools and support they need. We've created new opportunities for college students to explore a career in public service.

And we've made incredible progress on the construction of the Obama Presidential Center in my hometown of Chicago—a city that means so much to me and will become the hub for all of our work.

This is just the beginning, and we can't wait to continue our work together. Donate tonight by 11:59 pm CT—your gift will be matched dollar for dollar thanks to a generous \$1 million match opportunity!

Here's to making even more of a difference in 2023.

—Michelle
