Steve —

Today is a solemn anniversary — it has been exactly 50 years since the Supreme Court decided Roe v. Wade.

Last year, the court made a new ruling in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization that overturned Roe, and today, states across the country have instituted strict abortion bans and jeopardized the ability of millions of women to obtain reproductive health care.

This is the most pivotal moment for reproductive freedom in half a century. With a Republican House, we will not see new laws passed for the next two years. Which makes it all the more important to support the organizations working on the ground to help patients access this care.

- Access Reproductive Care—Southeast, which works to support and provide resources to women seeking abortion care in the South.
- SisterSong: Women of Color Reproductive Justice Collective, which focuses on serving women of color and helping them access equitable care.
- The National Latina Institute for Reproductive Justice, which works in states like Florida and Texas organizing for health, dignity, and justice.

If you can, make a \$10 contribution split between these three organizations fighting for reproductive justice today, when we should have been celebrating the 50th anniversary of *Roe v. Wade*. 100% of your contribution will go to these three groups.

If you've saved your payment information with ActBlue Express, your split donation to SisterSong, Access Reproductive Care—Southeast, and the National Latina Institute for Reproductive Justice will go through immediately.

Today and every day, we stand resolute in our fight to guarantee reproductive freedom for all, and to oppose those who would deny that right.

Thanks for supporting these incredible organizations with your contributions.
