Applications are open for Planning Academy Bootcamp 2024!

Do you have questions about how Charlotte has developed over the years? Do you want to know more about how CLT plans for its future? Are you interested in guiding the future of your neighborhood?

Planning Academy Bootcamp is a free one-day program aimed at helping residents better understand the role planning plays in building communities. Through a bus tour, presentations, and interactive activities, participants will learn about planning in Charlotte and how they can be involved in future planning processes and help influence the future of their community.

Planning Academy Bootcamp 2024 will take place on Saturday, April 27, 2024 from 10:00am - 4:00pm

Application is open until Sunday, March 31st. Class size is limited.
