New RURAL PROJECT

Dear Steve,

The past few weeks have been like being on a roller-coaster to say the least but at NRP, we are feeling energized and hopeful! Despite all the changes at the national level, NRP's game plan has remained the same as our Organizing team has been knocking on doors and talking to rural folks about the issues that concern them. Our goal is to help them connect the dots between those issues and the choices they will make at the ballot box on November 5, 2024.

The connections we make in rural communities are especially important in a presidential election year as we encourage people to make their voices heard through the power of their vote BUT to reach as many people as possible, we need YOU!

In addition to our "front porch conversations" deep canvassing that we do every Thursday - Sunday, we need folks to join our phone banks, text banks, and participate in community events with us.

Here's how you can get involved:

- 1. Find in-person and virtual volunteer opportunities on our Mobilize page. (Click here to sign up to textbank with us on August 22.)
- 2. Join NRP's "Volunteer Corps" by filling out our volunteer interest form and we'll reach out to you!
- 3. Check out our website and follow us on our Facebook and Instagram pages as we share other activities happening across our seven focus counties.

This is a moment when everyone wants to help North Carolina (and our country) move forward. Improving our communities is achieved slowly, door-by-door and conversation-by-conversation. By volunteering with us, you can play a huge part in encouraging lifelong civic engagement for the November election and beyond!

Respectfully,

Quanisea "Nisea" Moses
