Hi Steve,

I have some exciting news to share!

Tonight at 7:00 PM ET, I'll be appearing on PBS North Carolina's "State Lines" election special on your local PBS station.

I can't wait for you to see it!

In my interview, I delve into the issues that matter most to North Carolinians—affordable insurance, transparent and conflict-free leadership, the impact of climate change on the market, and accountability for insurance companies. I also discuss how my opponent has consistently sided with big insurance, allowing our rates to skyrocket.

I encourage you to watch Causey's interview too and compare. He lacks substance, dodges responsibility for his unprecedented sixteen rate hikes and his failure to hold a single public hearing, and seems happy with the high premiums saying "the system is working well." Causey even bragged about how he's enabled insurance companies to maximize their profits, saying:

"And what we have done in my eight years, we have worked with the Rate Bureau and the legislature to give insurance companies more freedom and more flexibility . . . to go around the Rate Bureau . . . And that has helped to some extent."

Let's be clear -- by "freedom" for insurance companies he means freedom to charge North Carolina consumers up to 250% of the maximum rate, via the Consent to Rate loophole! This guy is clearly not working for our best interests.

And here's the thing: it's critical that we get our message out ASAP. With the election approaching, we need to ensure that every voter knows the stark differences between the candidates in this race. Interviews like these with PBS help, but they are rare and most voters won't see them. The best way our campaign can engage voters is through paid ads. In order to beat Causey's big insurance donors, we need more grassroots donors to step up and help.

Will you help us amplify our message at this critical time for our campaign?
Your contribution of $25, $50, or whatever you can afford will make a significant impact and help us inform more voters about why Rate Hike Mike isn't right for them.

Thank you for standing with me. I hope you'll tune in tonight to see how we're taking this campaign to the next level.

At your service,

P.S. If you miss it live, you can watch my interview (and Mike Causey's too) on pbsnc.org, YouTube and the PBS app.
