Dear Friend,

This Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, we reflect on Dr. King's unwavering fight for justice, equality, and a brighter future for all children. At Council for Children's Rights, we carry forward his legacy by ensuring every child has access to the representation, support, and wrap around services they need to thrive.

Your gift today can make a profound difference. It can ensure siblings find safety and stability in a loving home. It can open doors to the special education services a fourth grader needs to succeed. It can help a child in crisis receive vital counseling and resources instead of facing confinement.

Dr. King once said, "Life's most persistent and urgent question is: 'What are you doing for others?'" By giving to Council today, you answer that question with compassion and action. You give our children a voice, hope, and access to life-changing resources.

There is no limit to the good your gift can do. Join us in building a brighter future for our community's children because justice and hope should belong to every child.

With gratitude,

Gail Bouknight-Felder
Director of Advancement
