Celebrating Excellence, Leadership & Impact

As we prepare for the 2025 Whitney M. Young Jr. Gala, we are proud to shine a light on this year's distinguished honorees—leaders and changemakers who reflect the spirit of empowerment, opportunity, and service that defines the Urban League of Central Carolinas.

Each honoree has made lasting contributions to creating stronger communities and opening doors for others.

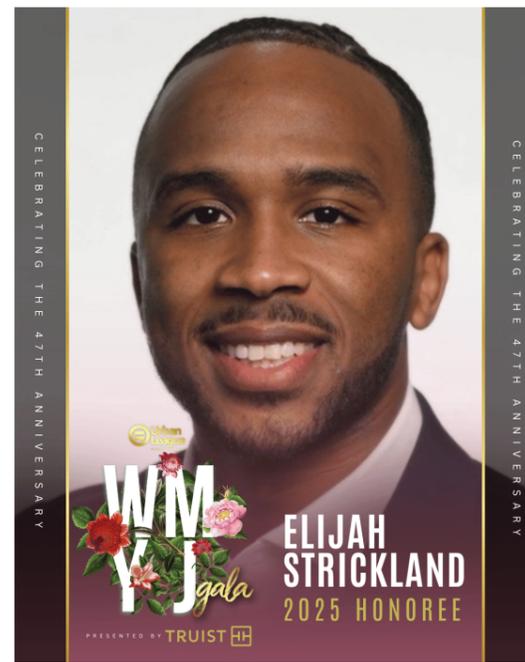

As a visionary leader in sustainable innovation, Mr. Regnery has helped Trane Technologies lead the way in climate solutions while championing access to career pathways and education. His leadership shows how companies can truly invest in people and progress.

A respected executive and community advocate, Mrs. Lockman-Brooks has dedicated her career to elevating others through mentorship, leadership development, and civic engagement. Her impact is felt across industries and generations.

Care Ring has been a lifeline for Charlotte residents in need of essential healthcare. Their mission-driven work ensures families can thrive, regardless of income or background bringing hope and healing to thousands year after year.

A dynamic leader in banking and community outreach, Elijah Strickland is building bridges through financial education, mentorship, and service. He represents the future of leadership committed, compassionate, and purpose-driven.

Join us as we celebrate these outstanding individuals and organizations at the 2025 Whitney M. Young Jr. Gala on Friday, September 12, 2025, at The Westin Charlotte. Together, we will honor their achievements and the lives they continue to uplift. Tickets and sponsorships are still available.
