The Convention is the gathering place for all our branches and units to come together, strategize, and talk about the work we need to do in our communities. We know this is a challenging time in our nation. Laws are changing. That's why it's so important for our grassroots to come, hear from leaders, and learn how to drive change.

People's World: NAACP convention calls for better health care access and equity for Black communities

"Act with the fierce urgency of now!" for health care access and equity for Black communities, urged Dr. Roger Mitchell, keynote speaker at the NAACP's 119th convention "Equity in Action" Health Summit held here July 12. Dr. Mitchell is the president of Howard University Hospital and president-elect of the National Medical Association.

Charlotte Observer: Democrats talk 2026 election strategy at NAACP convention in Charlotte. What is it?

Congressional Democrats laid out their strategy for recapturing power in Washington at the NAACP National Convention in Charlotte, and called on Black voters to take action to help make it happen.
