Friend,

The 116th NAACP National Convention may be over, but our work continues.

We're proud of all that we accomplished this past week in Charlotte. We united our energy, ideas, and passion for change to drive meaningful progress this year and into the future.

There was no shortage of powerful conversations, moving speeches, and thought-provoking workshops. This year's convention was a remarkable showcase of inspiration, collaboration, and our collective purpose, leaving us all more energized than ever to continue our work for change.

Whether you joined us in person or tuned in from afar, we hope that this is just the beginning of our continued work together, Friend.

Stay involved as we build momentum toward justice, equity, and freedom for all, not just this year, but in years to come.

You can join the NAACP all year long. Here's how:

- Become a member and join a network of activists standing up to injustice, fighting back against systemic racism, and answering the call for equality.
- Take action with us all year long as we fight injustice at every turn.
- Become a Champion for Change and join our community of monthly donors, who fund our boots-on-the-ground activism as we combat injustice in classrooms, courthouses, communities, and Congress!
- Or help us fuel the movement in whatever way works best for you.

Until next year.

Keep Advancing,
