President Obama's birthday is on Monday—and I wanted to ask you personally to help celebrate. I know that the most meaningful gift that he could receive is to further the life-changing work happening at The Obama Foundation every day.

President Obama and I have talked about the joyful outpouring of support in celebration of his birthday last year. I know how much it means to him to see this community come together to support and inspire the next generation of leaders.

In the nearly 365 days since, we've put those resources to work, transforming your birthday gifts into real change. We're providing girls around the world with access to education through the Girls Opportunity Alliance, giving boys and young men of color opportunities to reach their full potential with the My Brother's Keeper Alliance, and empowering the next generation of leaders through the Obama Leaders program—and there is so much more to do in the year to come.

Remember, his birthday is Monday. Don't wait to get your birthday gift in.

Michael
