Campaign Update: Momentum Is Building in District 4!

"Renee' has convinced herself that University City is Ballantyne and nobody can tell her different". ~Ryan Pitkin, Queen City Nerve

Dear Friends and Supporters,

I hope this message finds you well. I'm reaching out to thank you for standing with me as we continue this journey together! Just a few updates from the campaign trail:

Since 2019, with your amazing support, I've already accomplished so much. Together, we have raised the bar in District 4!

- Introduced Charlotte's Source of Income Discrimination (SOID) ordinance, helping to prohibit housing discrimination against residents using vouchers or alternative income sources.
- Championed the City's first and only Infrastructure Committee Meeting in December 2022, setting a precedent for coordinated planning across departments and stronger resident engagement. Watch here
- Created and convened the District 4 Coalition, a powerful resident-led body that amplifies community voices and drives local accountability. (Email: cd4communitycoalition@gmail.com)
- Pushed for ASL interpretation access for Charlotte residents, resulting in interpretation support for over 132,000 hard-of-hearing residents citywide.
- Advanced the $100 million Housing Trust Fund plan to include not only rental housing but also paths to homeownership and neighborhood stability.
- Worked with District 4 leaders to develop the "Exploring Corporate Buyer Deterrence Strategies" training, equipping HOA leaders with tools to strengthen bylaws and manage responsible development. Watch here

But there's still more work to do—and I need your VOTE to continue this great work!

The campaign is accepting donations to purchase the materials we need to win this race—yard signs, literature, event supplies, and more.
